“Today's Youth Tomorrow's Future”

We hear often, “Today's youth is the future of tomorrow.” The youth of today are a crucial and hopeful segment of society. They make the paths clear for social changes and can serve as a pressure group to governments in defining their priorities. They are not only the leaders of tomorrow, but the partners of today. The generation today is fast paced and the youth is curious to gain knowledge, experiment and bring change. Change is constant in today's generation and the youth of today embrace it and run with it. Youth have some responsibility towards their society. Most importantly, Youth need to learn from yesterday and live with hope for a better tomorrow. The youth should be honest and hard working. The youth should use their brains, strength, creativity and imagination to serve our nation. The elders must motivate our youth and teach them responsibility and goal setting and help them to achieve their goals.

Most of today's Youth are independent. They like their freedom and want to explore and experiment. With an amalgamation of traditional ideas, modern ideas and technology, they have unlimited potential. Some people might be of the opinion that how can the elders put their future in the hands of teens, whose ideas span from simple to complex. The answer is simple – we simply let them “do”, we let them “dream”, “think”, “explore” and “fulfill”. We empower them to believe in themselves to carry out their plan and projects.

Thus, to empower, the parents and teachers should believe in the youth. They should help them develop positive habits necessary to sustain and grow to make this world a better place to live. Just believe in them and let them explore, plan, prepare and experiment. Motivate them to be the change they wish to see in this world. Let them be Independent and empower them.

There are people who empower youth in a different way. Don Bosco, a man of young of 20th century was remarkable in finding many a poor lads and making a difference in their own life and lives of many other youngsters. If not this man Bosco and his method of education many could have been out of track, of him many found possibilities for a better future. Today they stand as credible signs, and in their turn they have become 'signboards' and are motivated to motivate others. To give an example to this we have Dominic Savio an young lad of 13 reached the heights of holiness just because of Don Bosco. Opportunities given and well motivated the young will be the future of the tomorrow!
